HERMANN HAIMSTET, KUNSTHANDLUNG

ULM a.D. 6 December 1878.

Sir!

By this I take the liberty in sending you the photograph of a most magnificent picture by, Annibale Caracci, and to make you the offer, if you would not be inclined to buy it for the picture gallery of your town.
The original is most blamelessly preserved, a real pearl of Italian art. The picture has, the frame included, the height of 130 Cents., the breadth of 110 Cents., and the prise amounts to 5000 Dollars.

I am charged by the owner of the picture to offer to the person, by whose interposition a bargain is concluded, a provision of 500 Dollars.

You would greatly oblige me to favour me with an early reply.

I am Sir

Yours very respectfully

Dear Sir,

The rush of business has prevented my writing you. I am glad to hear the picture has arrived safely and sorry you don't seem to think it superior to the Venus, as in many respects I feel that it is. For the present and until you hear again from me you will kindly not mention any price at all - $8500. down cash now will not buy it.

Very truly yours,

Mr. McLeod,

Dear Sir,

A friend
told me a few days ago that there was a new regulation
at the Corcoran Gallery, and that Circulars had been sent to the owners
of pictures which had been loaned

for Exhibition there,
saying that they would be kept only
one year, after which they would be stored
at the owner's expense Here - As we have received no
such circular, I thought I would send you a line
to see if we were
to do any thing
about our pictures.

There will be no
need of your troubling
yourself to reply to this, if things are
to remain as they
now are; so unless you wish us to have them removed, you
need take no notice
of this note.

Hoping you are well, and wishing
you the compliments
of the season

I remain

Yours Sincerely
Mary E. Williams

Dear Sirs

The undersigned artist of the Japanese Exposition under Commodore M. C. Perry 1852 to 1856 has since that time continued his study of Japan and painted a series of pictures of the country and its inhabitants. Fifty of these pictures are 18" by 12" and are representations of Yiddo. Before it was known are now here. He respectfully asks permission to exhibit them now in

To the Trustees of the Corcoran Art Gallery.

The following Preamble and Resolution was considered by the Washington Art Club, and the Executive Committee instructed to communicate with the Trustees of the Corcoran Art Gallery upon the Subject.

Whereas we recognize in the Corcoran Art Gallery our great dependence for the establishment of an Art School of the higher order in this City, and whereas we understand with pleasure that it is the intention of the Trustees to erect, at the proper time, a suitable building and establish such a school, and

whereas, by reason of the times being now ripe, the necessity for Art Education recognized, and the demand for proper facilities increasing,
